To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. Lownsberry was an exceptional student who approached his undergraduate education with seriousness, sincerity and a positive professional attitude.

As a student in my class Mr. Lownsberry excelled. His performance on examinations was well above the class average. Assignments were always completed in a timely and professional manner, demonstrating care and dedication. Mr. Lownsberry's technical knowledge was superior to those of his peers as evident through his workmanship, attention to detail and problem solving abilities.

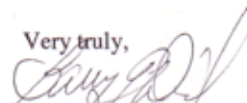

Mr. Lownsberry has a friendly soft-spoken manner. He earned the respect of his peers who looked to him for guidance and direction. I was especially impressed with Mr. Lownsberry's organization skills and ability to work under pressure.

Mr. Lownsberry has the ability to take on a number of tasks simultaneously, and to ensure their completion in a timely, effective manner. I believe he has the combination of dedication, motivation, intellect, technical abilities and mannerism necessary to perform as an outstanding technology educator.

Without reservation, I highly recommend Mr. Lownsberry be given serious consideration for a position as a technology education teacher.
